CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in each, or by effecting a each insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged | negroes, and a large number of horses, mules, oxen, by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. THE WASHINGTON AQUEDUCT .-- The Georgetown correspondent of the Washington Star Capt. H. W. Benham, chief engineer of the Washington aqueduct, has awarded to Messrs. Jackson and Cavanaugh the contract for completing the tunnel near the Great Falls, and to Mr. H. Hughes the contract for finishing the incomplete portions of the conduit on sections Nos. 1 and 13. We also understand that a portion of the four-way fire-plugs here and in Washington are to be protected by a stone curb, and that Messrs.

the successful bidders. PORT OF ALEXANDRIA .- The month of August has been quite a brisk one at the port of Alexandria. The marine list chronicles the arrivals of the month as follows: Steamers, 20; ship, 1; barques, 2; brigs, 14; schoon-

Notwithstanding this large arrival, freights for colliers have been active, and employment could have been given to many more than those which arrived.

ADVERTISING.—Let us add a sentence or in Saturday's Gazette. The rates of advertising in Alexandria are cheaper than they are in any of the large cities-and cheaper than in any almost any other place in the United States. Let a comparison be made with those from other cities and this will be seen. Indeed the rates to be profitable should be higher.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

FAREWELL TO GREECE.-Bayard Taylor.

in his last letter from Athens, thus bids a tender farewell to the land of colossal heroes and mighty memories. "Let me not lose the pensive sweetness and sadness in Athens. The sun is rapidly sinking in clear saffron light beyond the pass of Daphene, and a purple flush plays along the high, barren sides of Hymettus. Before me rises the Aeropolis, with its crowns of beauty; the Parthenon, on whose snowy front the sunsets of two thousand years have left their stain. In the distance is the musical Ægean, dancing with the light whispering waves. to fill the rock-hewn sarcophagus of Themistocles. Plato's olives send a silver shimmer through the dusk that is creeping over the Attic Plain. Many an evening have I contemplated this illustrious landscape, but it was never so lovely as now, when I look upon it for the last time. Every melodious wave in the long outline of the immortal mountains; every sacred marble in the august piles of ruin-every blooded anemone on the banks of the Illissus, and every asphodel that blossoms on the hill of Colonos -I know them, and they know me. Not as a curious stranger do I leave Athens; not two to the chapter on Advertising published a traveller, eager for new scenes; but with the regret of one who knows and loves the sacred soil, to whom it has been a sanctuary and a home.

> A SERMON .- One morning Nasser-Eddyn-Effendi ascended to his pulpit to preach, and addressing his hearers, said: "O, believers! know ye what I am going to talk about." They replied that they did not.

"Well, then," rejoined be, "since you do Johnson, Harper, and Burchell, opens its to tell you?" Another morning he again appeared in the pulpit, and said: "O, believers! know ye not what I am going to tell you?" They replied they did. "If you know it, then," said he, "I need not tell it to you;" and descended from the pulpit, and went his way. His auditors, puzzled what to do, at length agreed that, if he again made his appearance, some of them would say that they knew, others that they did not. And again Nasser-Eddyn-Effendi mounted into the pulpit, and said: "O. Mussulmans! know ye what I am going to say to you?"

To which some replied, "We know;" others, "We know not." "Good?" returned he; "let those who know tell those who do not."
